DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 1/17/06 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

Claims 1-56 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ginsberg (US 6,754,639) as cited in the prior office action.

Specifically as to claims 1,15, 29, 43 a method for shifting bids or offers in trading system, comprising: receiving a selection of a plurality of bids or offers a trading system; fig 6 Ginsberg discloses substantially simultaneously shifting of the selection of the plurality of bids or offers (abstract; fig 1430); fig 2 (330); fig 5 (850); col 4, L 5-10.

However, Ginsberg does not explicitly disclose price shifting for each of the plurality of bids or offers in the selection by a percentage of the prices of each respective bid or offer of the selection.

Official notice is taken that this feature is old and well known in the art.

By shifting terms (col 5, L 43-49) such as maturity by laddering, the price of the bonds shift such that the basket of securities shift (col 4,L 5-10). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to implement this feature for the advantage of adjusting data for changing market conditions.

Specifically as to claims 2, 16, 30, 44, further comprising allowing the user to input a percentage to shift prices for each of the plurality of bids or offers in the selection (col 4, L 6-10).

Specifically as to claims 3, 17, 31, 45, wherein the percentage shift in price is the same for each of the plurality of bids or offers in the selection (col 5, L 43-49).

Specifically as to claims 4, 18, 32, 46, wherein the shifting of the prices is performed in response to a request by a user. (col 5, L 2-10).

Specifically as to claims 5, 19, 33, 47 wherein the shifting of the prices is performed automatically.(col 5, L 2-10).

Specifically as to claims 6, 20,34,48 further comprising receiving from a user a status assignment for at least one of the plurality of bids or offers (col 5, L2-10).

Specifically as to claims 7,21,35,49, wherein the status assignment of the at least one of the plurality of bids or offers is an active status.(col 2, L14-22).

Specifically as to claims 8,22,36,50 wherein the active status permits hits or takes to be performed on the at least one of the plurality of bids or offers (col 2, L 14-22., col 9, L 34).

Specifically as to claims 9,23,37,51 Ginsberg does not explicitly disclose suspension wherein the status of the at least one of the plurality bids or offers a status. Official notice is taken that this feature of suspension is old and well known in the art. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to implement this feature for the advantage of keeping securities from trading under illegal conditions and any SEC requirements.

Specifically as to claims 10,24,38,52 wherein the suspended status blocks hits or takes from being on the at least one the plurality of bids or offers. (col 10, L27-40:blocks if price increases).

Specifically as to claims 11,25,39,53 Ginsberg does not explicitly disclose further canceling at least one of the plurality of comprising bids or offers. Official notice is taken that this feature is old and well known in the ad. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to implement this feature for the advantage of keeping securities from trading under illegal conditions and any SEC requirements.

Specifically as to claims 12,26,40,54 Ginsberg does not explicitly disclose comprising receiving a default parameter from that includes a default status parameter for the plurality of bids or offers. Official notice is taken that this feature is old and well known in the ad. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to implement this feature for the advantage of sustaining trading for market continuity when data is limited.

Specifically as to claims 13,27,41,55 Ginsberg does not explicitly disclose further comprising receiving a default parameter from a user that includes a default shift parameter for the plurality of bids or offers. Official notice is taken that this feature is old and well known in the art. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to implement this feature for the advantage of adjusting data for changing market conditions.

Specifically as to claims 14,28,42,56 Ginsberg does not explicitly disclose further comprising receiving a default parameter from a user that is used to shift the prices of the plurality of bids or offers. Official notice is taken that this feature is old and well known in the art. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to implement this feature for the advantage of adjusting data for changing market conditions.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments, see pages 14-15, filed 01/17/06, with respect to claims 1-56 have been fully considered and are persuasive. The 35 USC 101 rejection (lack of technology) of 8/25/05 has been withdrawn.

Regarding the arguments against official notice, applicant's traversal from 3/8/05 is not adequate; therefore, the common knowledge or well-known in the art statement is taken to be admitted prior art because applicant either failed to traverse the examiner's assertion of official notice or that the traverse was inadequate. To adequately traverse such a finding, an applicant must specifically point out the supposed errors in the examiner's action, which would include stating why the noticed fact is not considered to be common knowledge or well-known in the art.¹ A general allegation that the claims define a patentable invention without any reference to the examiner's assertion of official notice would be inadequate.

With regards to applicant's arguments concerning the 35 USC 103(a) rejection as being unpatentable over Ginsberg, Examiner disagrees and refers back to the above rejection of said claims. Based on the amendments made 1/17/06, applicant has not clearly defined over the Ginsberg reference as was indicated in the interview of December 13, 2005. At that time, applicant indicated that relative shift language would be added to include knowledge of how the market really is.
